Beta Gel Solution

Boost your skins immune system

Beta Gel is amazing formula particularly for sensitive, irritated or inflamed skin as it almost immediately boosts the skin's immune defenses and reduces swelling, redness and inflammation. Allowing healthier skin cells to fight back.

This Immuno-boosting serum formulated for acne, burns, sunburn, eczema, psoriasis, dermatitis, premature aging, sluggish skins, super sensitive skins and anyone who needs increased healing and skin regeneration.

People suffering from acne have transepidermal water loss, which means they need to restore their natural ability to retain water in the cellular level of the skin. Beta Glucan targets Langerhan cells that are responsible for the skins' immunity, the beta glucan stimulates the cell and boosts the skins natural defense mechanisms.

This unique serum contains Beta Glucan, an active ingredient extracted from the cell wall of certain yeasts. Beta Glucan is anti-inflammatory and an immunological agent, which stimulates skin's natural immune defence system.

A transdermal serum packed with vitamin B and C, and the most potent beta-glucan B-6 yeast wall extract for maximum performance. Beta Gel solution reduces swelling, redness and inflammation almost immediately by boosting the skin's immune defenses, allowing healthier skin cells to fight back. Can be applied directly on any skin condition.

Beta Gel with its unique transdermal delivery works on a cellular level not superficially, meaning it delivers ingredients directly to each cell, which ensures maximum benefit. On the other hand, superficial products remain on the surface of the skin and do not penetrate through to reach new skin cells. To improve skin function and increase the cells metabolism, new cells need to be nourished to function optimally and to enhance re-generation
